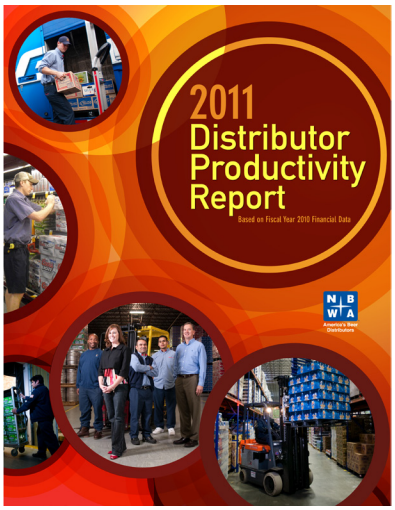
Gain all the benefits of a financial consultant, without spending the money to hire one!



NBWA's 2011 Distributor Productivity Report (DPR) is a practical guide to help you pinpoint your company's operational strengths and weaknesses. The report is a result of an industry-wide research effort that provides you with comparative information to evaluate your firm's financial and operating performance. The DPR is based on 2010 financial data. It will provide you with information to achieve:

- Higher profitability
- Increased productivity
- Improved business processes
